

BRYAN & CHRISTIE

Dear birth mother,

We admire your courage and strength as you make this decision. We want to offer you our promise that the child we adopt will be loved and have the best of everything we can offer – including a caring, supportive and fun home and parents and family members who will always be there for them.

We knew early into our relationship that we would spend our lives together. Our biggest desire as a couple was to become parents. We began trying to grow our family. After about a year of trying to conceive, we were told by our doctors that we would not be able to have a biological child. We always knew growing a family through adoption would be our next step.

Thank you for taking the time to read our profile. We hope it has given you an idea of who we are as a couple. We want nothing more than to grow our family through adoption.

Like many couples today, our story began online! In 2021, we were both single and looking for ways to meet people just as the world was re-opening after the COVID pandemic. After exchanging emails, Bryan said he had a good feeling and asked for Christie's phone number. We got to know each other over the next month on long phone calls and text messages. We felt like we had known each other for years when we met.

We share a love of travel and take a trip any chance we get! We love the memories we make traveling, the various people you meet and things you learn by visiting different places. We combine travel and tradition each year when we take an annual trip with Christie's sister-in-law and niece.

In the summer months you can find us outside at a baseball game or attending a concert. Our favorite concerts are Chris Stapleton and we have traveled to many different venues to see his concerts!

Outgoing, witty, spontaneous and go-with-the-flow are some other words that can be used to explain what type of person that Christie is. Whether it's helping someone move, helping someone understanding their health insurance or helping someone financially, Christie was, is and will continue to be the supportive, loving, caring person that she truly is. What you see is what you get, period.

Every time I watch Bryan with our friend's kids and our three nieces, I fall a little more in love with him. He will be a loving, hands-on dad, showing them how to throw the perfect baseball pitch or how to knead pizza dough.

Bryan is a self-taught chef. He honed his skills by watching Emeril Lagasse and working at a pizza parlor as a teenager. He is quick to offer to cook and rarely sits down to enjoy his finished product because he ensures everyone has everything they need and then gets a jump start on cleanup! If he was to receive a yelp rating, it would be 5 stars for taste and presentation!

We are lucky enough to consider many of our friends, family. We take an annual summer trip to Martha's Vineyard with not only our siblings and nieces but also friend's and their children. It has been amazing to build traditions together and it is something we look forward to all year.

We are a family that supports each other and celebrates each other. We love a good birthday party. Both of our families gather to celebrate many holidays at our house. We have egg hunts for Easter and Gingerbread house decorating to get ready for Christmas on Thanksgiving. We think we have the best family and can not wait to add a new member

We live in a spacious and updated townhouse in a suburb of Boston. Our location allows us easy access to all that the city of Boston offers while enjoying the quaintness of a suburban small town. We are centrally located between both of our families and have many friends nearby. Sharing our home with us are our cats, Hank and Simba! In addition to our town house, we have a house in a small town on Cape Cod where we enjoy time on the ocean and days at the beach.

We love New England and the four seasons. Our family roots are in New England and while we love to travel, we love our home base and the accessibility to the ocean, the mountains and cultural events in a major city.

WE WISH YOU ALL THE BEST AS YOU DECIDE WHAT PATH IS BEST FOR YOU AND YOUR BABY.

~BRYAN & CHRISTIE